VMEB Music Exam

Vienna Music Examination Board (Official name in German: “Wiener Musik-Prüfungskommission”) is a reputable and leading accreditation body and authority on professional graded practical music examination. Its board member consists of reputable universities, institutions, conservatory, professional performing bodies, and reputable music associations such as composer associations.

The Board’s music exam is a “performance-focused” music examination. All exams contain no scales, aural, sight reading or other supporting tests. Marks and comments for the examination are heavily based on candidates’ overall performance skill.

There are a total of twelve levels, including one Elementary Grade, eight Secondary Levels (Grade 1 to Grade 8), and three Performance Levels (TMPZ, CPPZ and SSPZ). There are no prerequisites for all the exams. Candidates may enter any grade without having previously taken any other exams.

The music that candidates play in the examination may be drawn from the VMEB Music Exam Syllabus or from syllabus of other music examination boards. No programme approval is needed. However, the programme chosen from other exam boards’ syllabus must demonstrate a comparable level of technical and musical demand to the correspondence grade in the syllabus of Vienna Music Examination Board.

For exams taken in Vienna, it will be supervised and examined by the Board’s Certified Examiners directly. For exams taken at exam centres in overseas, examination will be supervised by the Board’s Exam Supervisor. The whole examination will be recorded by video and the exam centre will then submit a DVD consists of a well-polished performance video of repertoires of correspondence grade together with other required documents to the Board for examiners’ evaluation. Marks and comments on the overall performance will be given by the Board’s examiner, not by the Exam Supervisor during the examination.

Exam Regulations/Rules

Exam Duration

There is no time limit in Elementarstufe (Elementary Grade) exam and Stufe 1-8 (Grade 1-8) exam. The total duration of repertoire for Oberstufe (Performance Level) examinations are shown below.

Oberstufe (Performance Level)	Total Duration of Repertoire
TMPZ - Tutti Musiker Performance-Zertifikat	at least 35 minutes
CPPZ - Concerto Primo Performance-Zertifikat	at least 40 minutes
SSPZ - Super Solist Performance-Zertifikat	at least 45 minutes

The total duration of repertoire refers to the total duration of all the pieces performed, and does not include:

- announcement made by Exam Supervisor/examiner before and at the end of the exam
- tuning
- exposition repeats (e.g. full exposition of a sonata form movement) and introductions of accompanist alone of more than 1 minutes
- breaks or pauses between pieces

Edition of Pieces

Candidates may use any alternative published edition of the pieces provided that they are not simplified version.

Repeats

Candidates should observe da capo and dal segno indications. Other repeats could be played at the candidate's choice. Longer repeats (e.g. full exposition of a sonata form movement) should not be played.

Accompanists

Except Elementarstufe (Elementary Grade) exam, candidates taking exams of orchestral instruments are required to play with accompanist, unless the chosen piece was originally composed for unaccompanied performance.

Candidates taking piano and classical guitar exams are not required to play with accompanist unless candidates choose to play concerto where orchestral reduction must be played by a second piano.

Prerecorded accompaniments are strictly prohibited. All pieces requiring accompaniment must be performed with acoustic piano.

Shorten Introduction (piano acc.)

Piano accompaniment should not be shortened in Stufe 1-8 (Grade 1-8) exams. For Oberstufe (Performance Level) exams, pianist may carefully shorten them in a musically appropriate way (Pianist should maintain musical aesthetic qualities, avoid changing to totally unrelated chord, and keep the integrity of rhythmical sense) if the piece consisted accompaniment introduction or outro considered to be too long. Playing the entire orchestral ritornello for a concerto first movement by the accompanist would be unnecessary.

Pauses Between Pieces

Candidates may tune their instruments, clean their instruments, clear their throat, regulate their mood, or even drink a sip of water after playing each piece during the exam.

Performing from Memory

Though it is not mandatory, candidates should perform from memory if they wish to achieve better results, especially in Performance Level exams. A memorized score frees the candidate from the mental distraction of reading, and allows all the cognitive, physical, and emotional processes to merge and focus solely on the art of making music, which may contribute to a better performance that has control, discipline, and a broad and sweeping sense of freedom. Remember that VMEB Music Exam is a "performance-focused" music examination.
